INTERNATIONAL MEDICAL ALLIANCE ASSEMBLES TEAM FOR SUMMER MEDICAL MISSION TO NICARAGUA

The California-based group is seeking two pediatricians for its August 4th to 14th mission

RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif., Jan. 18, 2011 - A Southern California non-profit group is seeking two pediatricians for its upcoming medical mission to Nicaragua.

Rancho Mirage-based International Medical Alliance (IMA) has already assembled a team of more than 60 doctors, nurses, dentists and support personnel who have agreed to volunteer their time and talents on a 10-day medical mission to Esteli, Nicaragua, from August 4th to 14th.

"We have a very diverse group of volunteers joining us for our medical mission, including general, plastic and maxillofacial surgeons," said Ines Allen, IMA's founder and president. "However, we are still looking for two pediatricians to complete our team."

In addition to volunteering their time and talents, the volunteers in IMA's Nicaragua will be expected to pay for their own airfare. Their room and board, however, will be provided by the Nicaraguan government.

Based in Rancho Mirage, International Medical Alliance is a non-profit organization that recruits doctors from every medical discipline to volunteer their time and talents to make a positive difference in the lives of children and adults with limited economic means, both in the U.S. and overseas.
